

Volunteer Officer Report December 2019

Callum Inkster – School of Architecture & The Built Environment Rep

What has been worked on in the past month?

This month we concluded the survey about the studio space redesign, with the conclusion of this and analysis of the data we found a large majority were pleased with the changes. So my course reps did the changes, feedback provided after use of the new spaces has all been positive.

As well as this 3rd year final submission time limit for presentations were increased from 6 minutes after complaints of students to 10 minutes.

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

The studio space redesign has proved to be a brilliant success and a much-needed one.

Plans for next month

Next month we prepare for the departure of our current programme leader for our architecture and architectural technology course. The aim would be to make this transition as easy as possible, we have found an intermediate replacement amongst our current staff members as they look for a full-time replacement. With new hires they can also fill in his role as he is a tutor and dissertation tutor to 3rd-year students, a new hire is able to take over this role from him and by shadowing him for the few weeks before he leaves will provide the replacement to get to know the students as well as their projects ready to take over from him.
