What has been worked on in the past month?	In the past month I have been researching and planning an education and awareness campaign on the issues that Black women face at British universities and how we can combat those issues at Lincoln. This will be a social media campaign that I have been discussing with the BAME campaigns group at the Students Union and the university itself on its equality and diversity reporting. I have also teamed up with various women's groups and student leader campaign groups across the UK and due to this I have attended a national training session on campaigning for combatting sexual assault at Universities.
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	Successes over the past month have included the women's group gaining a full committee and having our first committee meeting, as well as all successfully completing our training.
Plans for next month	For the next month, my committee and I will be releasing information on social media weekly which will give specific information for women on where they can find help on specific issues like abuse and sexual assault, as well as mental health issues.
