What has been worked on in the past month?	As many of you can imagine, it has been a crazy few weeks for all of us. Adapting to an online curriculum and working from home has been a large adjustment for us all! However despite this many things have happened this month. Firstly, at the beginning of the month there was a rep forum, where many reps together discussed issues such as facilities within the LIBS building and how things could be improved. As well as this, Marketing and Tourism's School Action day took place where some academics and students gathered to talk about some main topics such as dissertations, study abroad/placements and personal tutoring. Lots of feedback was gathered to help improve these areas in the next coming year and to help provide some action plans to moving forward.
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	There have been no Rep wins this month, however in terms of successes lots of feedback has been taken this last month which helps massively.
Plans for next month	In the next month I hope to hear more feedback about the move to online learning and help to improve the experience for students.
