Manifesto Point	Updates
International students are satisfied by the services provided by the SU	Progress from last month: Plans for next few months:	Before the closure of all physical aspects of the students' union, we conducted a Hate crime working group to find out the change students would like to see in the hate crime reporting structure that the wellbeing services have in place. Supporting international students and trying to make decisions with the other student leaders to support international and home students better from the last couple of months amidst the COVID-19 issues and how these issues impact students. Working closely with the university and the staff members at the Students' Union to create a virtual community and for the students to have things to do as well. The next few months involve supporting students with these uncertain times and keep them informed with everything that is happening in the nation. All student leaders are working from home to support all students through our different channels such as social media, emails etc.
To Spread cultural awareness through different cultural events and trips	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for next few months:	LIBS' Global week event was an amazing way for students to find out about the various resources and opportunities available for them throughout the university and even globally. It was amazing to be a part of the global week that LIBS had organised and was an amazing depiction of the various cultures we have present on the campus. This month also had the International Week and although we couldn't do all the physical activities due to the current situation. The plans for the next month is for how we can provide the cultural awareness in an online format to help students interact with us in an online format.
500 Students are members of International students' Association	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next months:	The International Students' Association is a social group where all international students can interact with other international and home students. The automatic enrolment for all international students has been completed which has raised the number of ISA members to over 2000 members. The plan for the future is to get home students to interact with international students which would happen by them being members of the International Students' Association. I am also hoping that a lot of Home students would join the International Students' Association at the Global Week and International week

Members of the ISA are Satisfied with the International Students' Association	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next months:	The ISA committee has organised an online version of the ISA Forum due to the current isolation situation. The ISA Forum is designed to get feedback from international and home students on how we can integrate home and international students, support international students and also what other events/trips they would like to see the Students' Union to organise for them to be a part of. The ISA Committee had also their ISA Buddies social event alongside the residential wardens to join the board games night. Creating a virtual catch up for all ISA members to be a part of it. The ISA officer alongside me is still available to support any students to the best way we can through our online channels.
Housing Options for February Students	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next few months:	With the February students now settled into the university and their accommodations as well the next steps for the completion of this KPI would be to find out whether the students are happy with their accommodations and the contract length that they have received from their accommodations as well to get a clear idea on what the students require moving forward.

Summary	March has been a very strange month due to this uncertain situation. I would just like to tell everyone to support each other in these difficult times, be there for each other, help each other when in need and most importantly be a friend in need. The other important thing to remember is that the student leaders are all there to support every single student and we are trying our best to do what is right for you. Feel free to contact any of us at any point of time through our online channels and we will be more than happy to answer any queries/questions that you have or even if you're feeling bored, feel free to drop us a message. Let's stay strong, support each other and Stay at home if we can!
