What has been worked on in the past month?	In the past month I have decided to postpone my 'spoon' campaign until next year so that I can give it the attention it deserves so that it will have the impact that I would like it to. In the past month the article I had written about my role as disabilities officer and what it entails went live on the student's union website. I have had lots of meetings with the student's union as me and the VP welfare and community along with the student's union have put together an accessibility report about campus with a variety of subjects highlighted. I have had meetings and discussions with The scene nightclub about them doing an accessible evening which unfortunately has had to be postponed at this current time, but I will be continuing to support them with these events and will post on my social media when they are to be going ahead.
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	Last month me and the VP welfare and community did an accessibility walk around of campus and its buildings to see just how accessible everything is, this included hearing loops in seminar rooms, disabled toilets and reception desks. From this, I am pleased to say that the university is now taking action and have started to change the pull cords that were too short in the disabled toilets around campus. It is these 'small' things that can have quite a large impact. This month I have also focused on student problems such as parking. A student messaged me with an issue they had about disabled parking on campus, I sent out lots of emails and eventually, we were able to come to a solution and a change in signage, which was a huge bonus!
Plans for next month	In the next month, I hope to have had various meetings with the university and the student's union online with the outcome of these meetings being better accessibility on campus and its various online platforms for all. In the next month, I will also continue to provide support for students during this difficult time through email and my social medias.
