What has been worked on in the past month?	This past month the BAME committee and I have been very busy with the finalising of BHM and making sure all activities are covid safe for it. We have also started getting more in contact with the Blackfem society and ACS to see what they are doing for BHM, which we are excited to see; I have been talking with Ben Anim who is the Head of equality, diversity and inclusion at the university, discussing what the university is doing for BHM and how they are preparing for it. I had a meeting with Jasper Shotts who is the Dean of Lincoln academy of learning and resources, we discussed about the student panel and how to get more of the BAME community on the panel; I have also been keeping up with the race equality meets run by Belinda Colston we are still in the early stages of getting the bronze award for the university, I have also properly started my trustee board role which is going well.
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	One of the successes from the past month would be being able to sit on multiple committees and make a contribution to them, another one will be having the BAME commitments being available to view on the SU page which is amazing. One other success would be the BAME committee and I, being excited with the activities that we and others have planned for BHM.
Plans for next month	The plans for next month are to now get BHM up and going, gain loads of attraction as well as gain student feedback from all the activities.
