

Volunteer Officer Report February 2020

Emma Calvert – College of Social Science Officer

What has been worked on in the past month?

This month I have met with various members of staff within the college to give student feedback. They have found this very helpful and I hope it is used to effect positive change.

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

The college has run a very successful NSS campaign and I am hoping the promotion continues until the survey closes next week.

Plans for next month

Prepare for the academic board as well as meet with the reps from the School of Health and Social Care to prep them for their later NSS campaign.
