

Full Name	Natasha Kirchin
Year of Study	2
What has been worked on in the past month?	The past month the campaigns group has gone under a readjustment, with a new committee and myself as a new officer, completing training. We have had our first committee meeting to discuss ways we can hold members meetings next year and ways to find out how we can effectively represent LGBT+ students. The outcome of this was that we need to ensure we conduct research (i.e. in the form of surveys) to ask about the experiences LGBT+ people are having on campus; not every student is in LGBT+ groups at university so we need to make sure these people are still heard and represented. In this meeting we also decided to place a strong focus on campaigning for gender neutral toilets across campus and this is something that being worked on in conjunction with Abi (VP activities).
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	On the 17th of July a letter was sent to Elizabeth Truss, the equalities minister, regarding banning conversion therapy. This was a letter collectively written by the committee about the damages conversion therapy can have on LGBT+ people and asking for more pressure on the government to ban it. It was signed by all 5 committee members and the 5 VP's for support. This was the first big thing achieved by the committee and any updates on the letter will be posted on social media. On July 20th, Boris Johnson made a statement to the press promising another ban on conversion therapy which we hope will be a step in the right direction.
Plans for next month	Looking in to the next month, we have meetings lined up with VP activities to discuss introducing gender neutral changing facilities to the sports hall. This will hopefully be worked on in tandem with the campaign for gender neutral toilets on campus. Ideally, by the end of next month we should have enough information to take our request to senior members of the University to be putting this in to place. Thinking to the start of the next academic year we will be engaging with current students on social media to ask them what they'd like to see/what they think needs changing to inform any campaigns we do. We will also be working on how to execute Transgender Day of Remembrance this year as it is unlikely that we will be able to have the march that we usually have. This will more than likely involve figuring out the best way to use social media to engage students and planning socially distanced commemorative events.