Manifesto Point	Updates
International students are satisfied by the services provided by the SU	Progress from last month: Plans for next few months:	The key things that I have been working on this month mainly involve getting feedback from international students through different channels, i.e. through virtual catch ups with LIBS which happens every Tuesday and Thursday, through email, social media channels and the Facebook Live QnA every Tuesday. I have also been working to create a petition with other Students' Unions specifically for international students. I have created a Pen Pal scheme for international students that will be joining us in the future and for them to get help in various aspects from current students. This will help them know more about the UK culture and various other queries that they may have prior to joining the University of Lincoln. The remaining time of my post in the Students' Union, I will be focusing on the handover to Amina who is the incoming Vice-President International and also to the other incoming Sabbatical officers.
To Spread cultural awareness through different cultural events and trips	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for next few months:	The Lincoln Together Training has now been completed and my focus was mainly the international, religious, and cultural inclusivity in that training. The plans for the next month are to explain Amina about the various cultural events that I have worked on this year and Amina can work on for future as well.
500 Students are members of International students' Association	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next months:	The International Students' Association is a social group where all international students can interact with other international and home students. The automatic enrolment for all international students has been completed which has raised the number of ISA members to over 2000 members. The plan is to get home students to interact with international students which would happen by them being members of the International Students' Association. In this time of uncertainty, we all must come together as one community and both home and international students should help each other where and when they can and support each other in these difficult times.

Members of the ISA are Satisfied with the International Students' Association	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next months:	An ISA Forum is to be conducted on the 27th of May for international students to be a part of this. It is mainly designed to get feedback from international students on how their year has been going in terms of online learning and how they are dealing with the situation and also to let them know about the various services available in the University, city and the students' union.
Housing Options for February Students	Progress from the last meeting: Plans for the next few months:	With the February students now settled into the university and their accommodations as well the next steps for the completion of this KPI would be to find out whether the students are happy with their accommodations and the contract length that they have received from their accommodations as well to get a clear idea on what the students require moving forward.

Summary	May has been mainly about getting feedback from students about how they are finding online teaching, about accommodation issues, financial issues, and about academic issues as well. It has been amazing to see all the support we have received from all students in these difficult times to help us help them better. With this being my last officer report, I would like to thank the University, students' union, the students, and everyone who has helped me in my role throughout this year. It has been an absolute pleasure to be able to represent the University of Lincoln students.
