Rep Role	College Officer – Social Science
What has been worked on in the past month?	The last few weeks has involved me attending meetings and working with the CoSS Director of Education to ensure we cover everything before the Christmas break and prepare for the new year. The meetings I have attended are CoSS joint academic affairs and education and student life committee and the University education and student life committee. I also co-chaired another teaching and learning experience panel which was received well.
Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins	Within the college the school reps have been trying to fill up their course rep vacancies to help gain the broadest representation possible and this has been successful. I feel I made valuable contributions in recent meetings to help encourage future plans in January. I also feel I have made any student concerns clear to help senior staff be aware of these things and able to focus on them.
Plans for next month	I am planning a CoSS online rep event to bring all reps together. I also have some materials I hope to have ready in the new year to help with rep visibility even more. I also hope to start discussing plans for the college careers event
