

Volunteer Officer Report November 2019

Zoe Hoy – Disabilities Students' Officer

What has been worked on in the past month?

In the past month I have worked on collecting issues and suggestions from students to allow the university more insight in areas that we need to work on to improve the student experience at university. I also participated in the inclusivity campaign Lincoln together, organised by Abi Brown (VP activities) and Emma Blackburn (VP welfare and community) to ask students what does inclusivity mean to you?

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

In the past month I have successfully collected issues and suggestions from students, and I am working with the university to provide the best outcome with these.

Plans for next month

I have been invited to speak about disabilities in societies and ways to be inclusive. organised by the terrible film society on the 6th of December in DCB. As part of the Lincoln together campaign helping our societies to be more inclusive and accessible to all.

On the 2nd December, I shall be coming along to the BSL society to learn some sign language!
