

Volunteer Officer Report October 2019

Emma Lucy Calvert

What has been worked on in the past month?

Over the past month, I have attended many committees regarding both academic affairs and student engagement within the college. I have also met with the Director of Education for the College of Social Science and we discussed plans for a get together with all the reps. We also discussed the plans for Speak Week and making sure that all the reps within the school are getting involved in gathering feedback from the students.

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

The rep elections for the schools has gone very well and I am very excited to meet them all at the get-together. All the school reps are on board with this idea and I was able to get feedback from all of them about what they want to happen at this event.

Plans for next month

Plans for next month include making sure that speak week is a success and every student has had the opportunity to feedback about their course. This will include supporting all the school reps and ensuring they have all the tools necessary to make this week work.
