| What has been worked on in the past month? | This month we have had meetings with VP Activities Abi in relation to getting gender neutral toilets and changing facilities on campus. While gender neutral toilets do exist in the Sarah Swift building we need to ensure that this becomes campus wide so that every student has a toilet they can use. Due to COVID we are struggling to get this completely off the ground but we will begin sending out surveys/asking people their experiences so that we can take this to the University to lobby them to take action. This month we have also had talks with the President of the Pride Society at BGU to try and put together a virtual pride in the first week of October. This will be a joint event with BGU that will hopefully bring together art, music and education from queer people in Lincoln in order to give students some type of Pride that coincides with the beginning of the year. |
| Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins | This month, success have come in the form of meetings. The meetings mentioned in section 1 have allowed us to kick start our gender neutral toilets/facilities KPI, which means work can now properly commence on this campaign. The meeting with BGU has meant that we now have a working relationship with the BGU pride society which will allow us to collaborate on future projects together and hopefully create bigger events. |
| Plans for next month | Over the next month we will continue working on the Virtual pride; this will include having meetings with BGU pride society, Lincoln Pride and artists within Lincoln. We'll also be putting out advertisements asking people/students if they want to get involved in different things we have planned. Also this month we plan on starting to distribute polls and surveys to students in order to collate information to put into an LGBT+ report that will be taken to the University. Along with the rest of the campaigns network and other officers, we'll be working towards putting together our virtual freshers fayre as well. |
