

Volunteer Officer Report March 2019

Rhianne Sterling-Morris – BAME Officer

What has been worked on in the past month?

Meeting with the next years BAME officer and planning next months event
#Jointheconversation

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

More people staff and students have been engaging with myself and the campaigns network. Some reasons for this engagement have unfortunately been due to racism around campus but more people are now engaging and getting their voice heard

Plans for next month

Continue working with some of the DVCs and other staff at the uni in regards to engagement and equality. Also start planning with the new BAME officer for black history month for october
