

Volunteer Officer Report March 2019

Lauren Chamberlain-Jones – School of Psychology Rep

What has been worked on in the past month?

In the past month the students rep held a successful school action day with a meeting having taken place following this to discuss the actions to take forward
Reps have continued to promote SU services to those in need specifically around issues occurring with a year 2 module, second year reps have worked tirelessly to ensure students get the best outcome including being active on the chats with questions and working actively with staff to resolve issues.

Further the dissertation fayre is due to take place and we are hoping to be a success as I have worked consistently to improve the event using feedback from third years

Finally, I am working on a dissertation tips and tricks to role out to help ease some of the pressure and stress regarding the module

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

The work undertaken with the dissertation fair

The help second years have proved to their peers consistently to help ease concerns regarding a module and help decrease stress

A successful and effective action day

Plans for next month

Continue to support second years both with the module they are struggling with and the dissertation supervisor process

To continue referring individuals to SU services in times of need
