

Volunteer Officer Report March 2019

Jessica Hickey – School of Fine and Performing Arts Rep

What has been worked on in the past month?

During this month many course reps have been meeting with lectures of their courses and have been discussing issues and positive feedback from students. Many meetings have been attended by the course reps and student engagement with the course reps has increased significantly.

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

Throughout this month the drama reps have been planning an end of year ball, if this ball becomes a success there may be a possible future for other courses in the school of fine and performing arts to have an end of year ball too. They've been working very hard.

Plans for next month Next month

Continue the meetings that the course reps are attending as well as the planning for the ball and future balls.
