

University of Lincoln Students' Union Volunteer Officer Report

28/02/2018

Charlotte Buono

Lincoln School of Film and Media

What has been worked on in the past month:

Talking to students and lecturers over the past month has been a major success for me within LSFM. The communication between animation students and the rest of the school has improved increasing as I was able to meet the course reps and get their perspective on things. Attending more meetings has helped me to engage the best interest of the school. Campaigns had taken up one of the weeks therefore I was preoccupied with supporting the ones running.

Successes from the past month:

Attending the LSFM Subject Committee meeting was a great experience this month gaining an insight into other course reps issues and positive feedback. Despite the meeting having been 30mins over time it was worth it as I gained a better knowledge of the new and modified modules. From this, Paulo from animation appreciated me supporting his points in the meeting as he mentioned this in the course rep tea. It was later discussed to create an LSFM Facebook page for course reps, college officers and the school rep to keep in touch. This will make it easier to contact all course reps with meetings and issues. This means that when new and old reps can be added and removed from the page. The course rep tea was friendly as always and we were able to discuss ideas in a peaceful manner.

Plans for next month:

Arranging contact with the newly elected LSFM school rep that will be taking my position will make them ready for what to expect from the role. Attending meetings or sending apologies with focus on deadlines. Also, maintaining contact with lecturers, course reps, students and our student champion.