

Volunteer Officer Report February 2019

Lauren Chamberlain-Jones – School of Psychology Rep

What has been worked on in the past month?

In the past month various things have been worked on, this includes; the implementation of the psychology rep social medias (both a twitter and an instagram) of which regular posts are made regarding SU events and what the reps are up to. I've liaised with the school engagement champion to help plan for the schools action day and myself and the reps have helped come up with the key themes and ideas for the day. Further to this there was various issues regarding grades and marking, I addressed these and signposted people to speak with their module coordinators to help provide them with a great insight as to how their grade could be improved. Throughout the month I have been doing a lot of signposting for students to relevant resources including the advice centre due to difficulties they have been having, listening to concerns and taking the appropriate action. I have helped with the planning for the second year dissertation fayre and also worked with the event reps to plan the psychology graduate ball which is due to take place in May after exams.

Successes from the past month and any Reps Wins

I feel that everything above is a success from the past month, but a rep win would certainly be the planning for the action day and the use of signposting for individuals who needed further aid regarding various matters.

Plans for next month

To continue the work of the working groups; including a meeting with the degree handbook working group and the relevant member of staff. Finally, to have a successful action day
