

University of Lincoln Students' Union Volunteer Officer Report

31/01/2018

Charlotte Buono

Lincoln School of Film and Media

What has been worked on in the past month:

What a success the past month has been as it was the first ever LSFM Winter Ball took place and was a hit with also students that attended who were not part of the school. I am so proud that students wanted this to happen spoke to me and I was able to make it work. I feel this is just one example that when students have asked for something that will benefit others in the school it has actually been made. I hope this is an example that will push students to work with their course and school reps as they want to help them.

Successes from the past month:

The Winter Ball has been the major success over the past month however listening to the student's perspective has helped me gain a better understanding of what is happening. Gaining and talking to lectures in the school has been useful however so far there hasn't been a course rep tea, subject committee or rep forum yet this month so I will have to wait till these occur to gain a larger perspective from students and tutors.

Plans for next month:

I aim to attend meetings to listen to course reps in the whole of LSFM as well as tutors to help bring the closer together and sorting out problems. Also making sure that all the positions have been filled and potentially seeing if there is anyone I feel would be suitable to take over my school rep role when I leave.